“Can An Ethical Person Be An
Ethical Prosecutor?” 31 Cardozo

“Can You Be A Good Person And
A Good Prosecutor” 14
Georgetown J. Legal Ethics 355

“My answer to the question 'Can you be a good person and a good prosecutor?', is now probably evident . . . My answer is both harsh and tempered. I hope so, but I think not.”

14 Georgetown J. Legal Ethics
355, 396 (2001)

“Of all offices in the gift of the Crown, that of Attorney General is perhaps least to be coveted; for whether the government be popular or unpopular, the person filling that place can scarcely avoid being the object of general dislike The most unpleasant consequence of all however appears to be, that the nation at large must look upon the Attorney General as sort of ministerial spy—an informer of rather higher rank than those who have recently become notorious; . . . the Attorney General [must] bear the brunt at home; his hand may be said to be against everybody, and everybody’s hand against him.”

Collier, Criticisms of the Bar, 1819.

YOU ARE NOT IMMUNE

A MAN WAS SENT TO HELL FOR HIS SINS. AS HE WAS BEING TAKEN TO HIS PLACE OF ETERNAL TORMENT, HE SAW A LAWYER MAKING PASSIONATE LOVE TO A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN. “WHAT A RIP-OFF,” THE MAN MUTTERED. “I HAVE TO ROAST FOR ETERNITY AND THAT LAWYER GETS TO SPEND IT WITH A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.

JABBING THE MAN WITH HIS PITCHFORK, HIS ESCORTING DEMON SNARLED, “WHO ARE YOU TO QUESTION THAT WOMAN’S PUNISHMENT?”
